Extending the shelf life of your campaign: Create once, publish everywhere

Protochips with C&EN Media Group: A Case Study
Protochips’ Business Challenge

Protochips had just completed a webinar on transmission electron microscopy, a niche technology for which the company makes a product. With all the time and effort that went into the program, Protochips wanted to leverage the final content presented in the webinar and find ways to distribute it in additional formats. The C&EN Media Group team came in to create meaningful solutions to repurpose their webinar materials.

C&EN was tasked with solving these questions:

1. How can we continue to showcase Protochips as a leading provider of microscopy?
2. What different distribution models would be best suited for repurposed webinar content?
3. How can we drive even more leads to fill our sales pipeline?
Our approach to extending campaign shelf life: Create once publish everywhere

1. Take inventory of what you have. A lot of time goes into preparing a webinar -- from identifying an interesting topic to securing speakers, and then creating an informative presentation. For Protochips, the positive response from their webinar was a clear indication that their target audience was hungry for more content.

2. Explore solutions to distribute the content in different ways. C&EN proposed developing a custom whitepaper on the webinar. The whitepaper allowed Protochips to take the webinar content up a notch by providing more in-depth case studies and quoting subject matter experts.

3. Continue to deliver to the sales team. In addition to creating a custom whitepaper, C&EN created a robust lead generation campaign with a custom landing page and form. The form captured demographic details that the sales team could instantly act on.
The Program

C&EN Media Group enlisted one of its science writers to watch the webinar and extract highlights to turn it into a compelling narrative for the whitepaper. By covering the webinar content, we helped Protochips add additional details to the new whitepaper, including case studies and research papers that didn't make it into the webinar program.

The C&EN team worked closely with Protochips to develop the content, and created a robust marketing strategy for launch that would help them meet a guaranteed number of leads for their sales pipeline.
C&EN was able to exceed lead generation goals for Protochips, surpassing original 200 guaranteed leads amount by 65%. Visitors spent an average of 5.5 minutes on the landing page. The results below demonstrate how C&EN created an effective pipeline of prospects for Protochips.
